

"My Savior Is My One Great Tie"

by

Rosemary Sykes

*Yes, I will sing praises to God
And claim Him as sovereign king.
He protects me with his staff and rod;
With jubilant voice, I will sing.
Eden was man's first home;
Heaven will be his last.
Isaiah promises that Christ will come,
So sound the trumpet blast!
The savior has died for us;
His cross is our Calvary.
Every knee will bow, for it is just;
God, I see, has restored me.
Rejoice in Heaven and on earth!
Every eye will see his glory;
All will proclaim Him with mirth.
The Heavens are telling His story;
It was God's will for Christ to die
And save us all from sin.
My savior is my one great tie
And redeemer of all fallen men.
Man and God have been restored!
Each saved soul is God's true kin;
Nourished is each in His true reward.*

© June 7, 2006